

WE'RE LAUNCHING A NEW

Reward and Recognition application called Motivosity.

What is Motivosity?

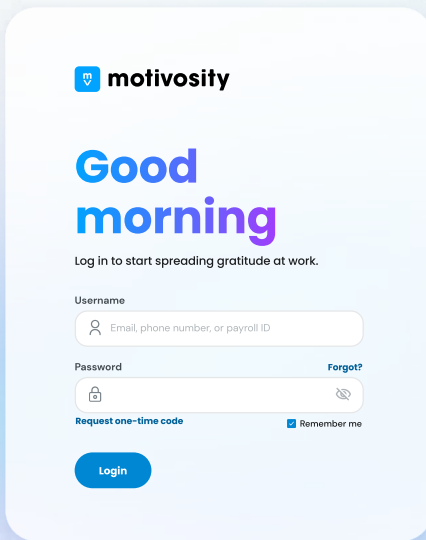

Motivosity is your company's platform for gratitude, recognition, and real human connection at work. It's where you'll say thanks, get recognized, discover your coworkers, and feel more connected to the people around you.

Every month, you'll receive a small amount of giving money to send to coworkers alongside a personal appreciation note. When others recognize you, that becomes spending money—yours to use however you want. Redeem it instantly on your ThanksMatters Visa Card, swap it for a digital gift card from 850+ brands, cash out via PayPal or Venmo, donate it to a cause you care about, or so much more.

The rewards? Just the cherry on top. Motivosity is also where you get to know the people you work with. Build out your profile with your interests, personality style, and what you actually do day-to-day (not just your job title). Explore the org chart, find shared interests with coworkers, and see a live feed of recognition happening across the whole company.

How does Motivosity work?

1 Create your profile

Your profile is more than a name and a title. Add your responsibilities so people know what you actually do, share a little about yourself, list your interests, and complete your personality profile. The more you put in, the easier it is for your coworkers to find you, connect with you, and work better with you.

My History

I've worked in the Pawnee Parks Department for the last six years. I love my city and the people I work with. During my time here I've handled a lot of things that I'm really proud of. Recently I lead a drive to disinfect the sandboxes after we had that problem with the cats. I'm also part of many committees here at City Hall to help improve our beautiful Pawnee, including the the Increased Access to Restrooms Task Force. One day I hope to become the first female president of the United States, but in the meantime I'm happy to serve here and improve Pawnee, the greatest town in America.

2 Say thanks

Anyone can give an appreciation – not just managers. When you recognize a coworker, you'll write them a personal note, tie it to a company value, and optionally attach some of your giving money. That appreciation shows up in the company feed for everyone to see and celebrate.

Your giving money refreshes at the start of every month. Anything you don't send doesn't roll over, so use it.

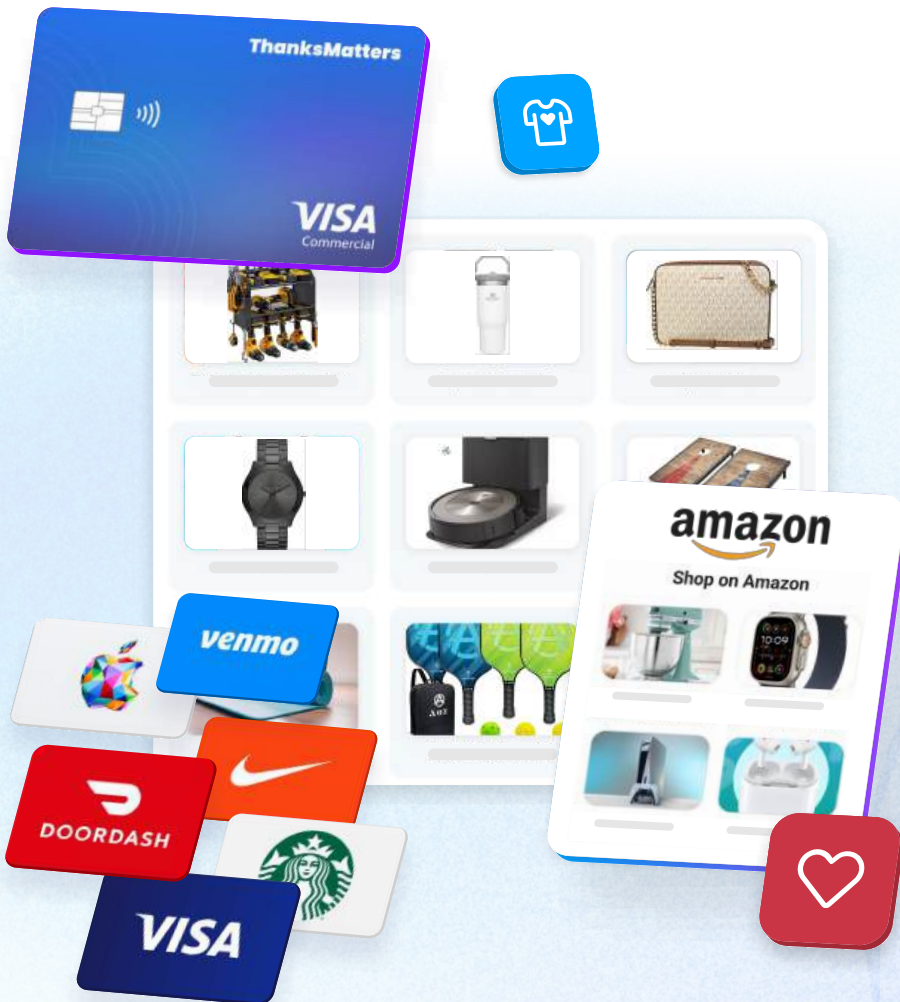

3 Spend your rewards

Once you've received recognition, your spending money is ready to use.

Here's how:

- ThanksMatters Visa Card: spend it anywhere Visa is accepted, instantly
- Digital gift cards: 850+ brands to choose from
- PayPal or Venmo: cash it out
- Charitable donations: give it to a cause you care about
- Local or custom rewards: branded gear, company swag, and more

4 Explore the org chart

The org chart is interactive and always up to date. Click on anyone's profile icon anywhere in the platform to see where they sit in the company and who they work with. It's the fastest way to find the right person when you need them.
