Communicate more effectively.

People often miss important info in email, Slack/Teams, or an outdated intranet. Motivosity helps you get the right info to the right people with announcements, notifications, targeted comms to specific groups, event management, global search, and a personalized social feed.
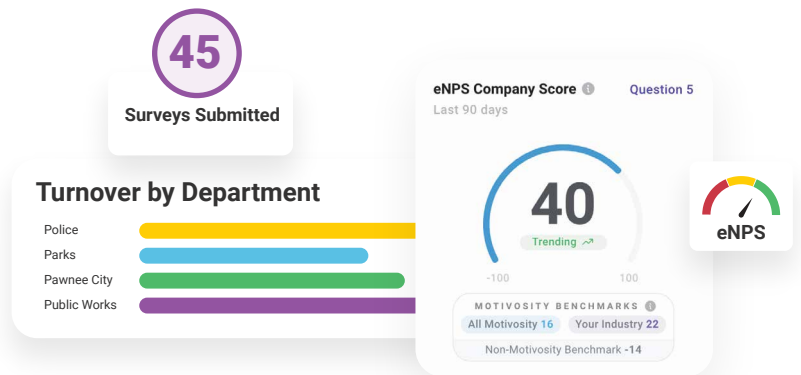

Unify your company.

Motivosity's people-first approach to recognition harnesses the power of social connection, peer-to-peer appreciation, company-wide visibility, and an intuitive interface to help companies with multiple locations, remote workers, or team silos build culture, community, and unity.

Measure impact and engagement.

Keep track of performance with comprehensive reporting on engagement and recognition. Leverage our surveys tool to understand employee sentiment and eNPS scores, prioritize your next initiatives, and measure the effectiveness of your programs.

Make your job easier and more impactful with Motivosity.

Motivosity is the only Recognition and Rewards solution that takes a people-first approach to driving engagement, while helping you automate giving and redemption, motivate participation, and simplify communication. Plus, integrate with your SSO, HRIS, and other tools you use daily like Zoom, Slack, Microsoft Teams, Google Meet, and more.

"Motivosity has played a key role in helping us establish and maintain our culture as we have grown rapidly. It helps our team members reinforce our cultural attributes and operating principles on a daily basis … but the real value is in great employee retention and engagement."
